

The Pawlet Volunteer Network
Name of organization	Rutland Regional Planning Commission (RRPC) & Transportation Council (TAC)
Job title	Regional Planning Commission Representative
Location	Rutland, VT
Length of appointment	Yearly
Time commitment	Monthly RRPC & TAC Board meetings and attend most Town Select Board meetings as a way to hear about town updates and share regional updates.
Job description/ special requirements	Regional planning commissions are a local resource for towns and, in a state without county governments, a link between municipal affairs and state government. Regional planning commissions are non-taxing, political subdivisions of the State of Vermont established under state statute (24 VSA §4341).
Benefits	Connects our town with the regional levels as that helps develop the regional plan and assess municipal land use plans.
Support provided	Very helpful folks at the Rutland Regional Planning Office plus monthly meetings with invited guest speakers. Serving is a great way to connect between town and regional level.
